SCHOOL REPORT.

Our schools the past year have been in session twenty-five weeks—two more than the previous year.

The school at the Brook during the spring term united with that at Gaza; and the Hunkins during the fall term, with that at the Square. The school at New State was suspended during the year, the few pupils there attending at Hill. So also the school at Stone Bridge was suspended during the year, the scholars there being provided for elsewhere.

By this arrangement, a few children have been subjected to some unusual inconvenience, but no more than some children endure every term and every year who live one and two miles away from any school. But WITH this extra inconvenience which a few have suffered, all the scholars in the whole town have had the benefit of two weeks' extra schooling; and THAT was what the School Board had in view,—the greatest possible amount of schooling for all the pupils in the town, for the money they had to expend.

The School Laws of the State require the Board of Education to expend the money placed in their hands to the best advantage for all concerned; and in doing so they find it necessary sometimes to unite adjacent schools, or suspend them altogether, when the children of such schools can be accommodated with a larger amount of schooling elsewhere, with but little additional inconvenience.

TEACHERS.

We have been fairly successful the past year in obtaining competent teachers. Several have not met our expectations, especially in regard to discipline; while others have been preeminently successful in all respects.

Miss Osgood has taught both terms at Calef Hill; Miss Drake one term at the Square, and Miss Dearborn one term; Miss Kendall one term at the Hunkins, and one term at the Brook; Miss C. B. Redding the first term at the Meadow, and her sister, Miss M. N. Redding, the second; Miss Weeks completed her second year at the Bay; Miss Taylor both terms at the Morrison; Miss Thomas both terms at North Sanbornton; Mrs. C. A. Hill one term at the Chapel, and Miss Lane one term; Miss Batchelder both terms at the Osgood; and Mrs. M. A. Hill both terms at Gaza, except the last three weeks, when, on account of sickness, she resigned, and Miss Davis of New Hampton finished the term.

SCHOLARSHIP.

About the average progress has been made in the several studies pursued—more under the instruction of some teachers than of others. Some teachers have the faculty of getting more solid study out of their pupils than others; and some teachers excel in methods of explanation. Those children who attended school for the sole purpose of learning have made good progress; while others, bent on mischief and idleness, as in the case of one or two of our schools, have been only a damage to the school, a disgrace to themselves and to the community in which they live.

Two or three such persons sometimes demoralize a whole school, and become a terror to the neighborhood. They should be subjected to the most rigid discipline, or turned out and sent home and made to work for a living. The schools are better without them.

The School Board would suggest that the public sentiment of the town should sustain our teachers in exercising a more stringent oversight of the morals of their pupils. In some of the schools a few of the baser sort have indulged freely, in the presence of the other scholars, in the use of profane, vulgar and indecent language. Think of innocent little boys and girls being polluted with such indecency! Those children who are corrupted AT HOME by being accustomed to hear all manner of vulgar and profane language from older members of the family, should not be allowed to pollute the ear and heart of innocent little ones who come from families of refinement and purity.

The teachers are, by law, invested with authority to forbid all such immoralities in or about the school house, and they should be sustained in exercising such authority by public sentiment, as well as by the School Board.

REPAIRS.

The school houses at New State and the Brook have been reshingled, and others have received such slight repairs as were necessary.

The improvement on that at the Bay deserves special notice. It has now the most inviting, convenient and beautiful school room in town. Its floor is laid with hard wood and finely dressed. The walls, up to the base of the windows, are sealed with the same, and also dressed. The plastering is new, white and clean, and the blackboards are large and complete. The desks and seats are of the latest, most durable and convenient style, which, we are happy to say, for the last term of fifteen weeks, have not been defaced by scratch or mark; a fact which, with other qualities of teacher and pupils, has made the school at the Bay a model one.

The exterior of the building is also receiving, at the present writing, a new coat of paint, which, with the most thorough repairs in every part of the house, will make it an ornament to the neighborhood and the town.

These much needed and extensive improvements have cost about two hundred dollars, and the house bids fair to last for a generation and more, without much additional cost.

PARENTS.

We would again urge upon the parents the importance of frequently visiting the schools. The effect will be helpful to both the teacher and scholars.
